KŌYŌ CHRONICLES

VOL. 1, NO.8 KOYOSTUDIO.COM NOVEMBER 2026

INSPIRATION AND TRANQUILITY

NOVEMBER IN JAPAN is the peak season for peaceful walks in the parks of Tokyo and Kyoto, thanks to the colourful ornament of the red Japanese maple (momiji - 紅葉) and golden ginkgo biloba leaves. It is also a popular season for relaxing in traditional Japanese open-air hot springs (onsens). This month, at KŌYŌ studio, we are also looking forward to bringing inspiration and peace of mind to our clients. Find out more on the next page...

ONSENSOU was born in Beppu, Japan—a city renowned for having the largest number of hot springs, and nearly 3,000 natural sources. The brand collaborated with the Beppu Hot Spring Microorganism Research Institute, embarking on an extensive scientific journey to unlock the true essence of onsen skincare. Years of research have led to the groundbreaking discovery of two unique onsen-derived ingredients: "Hot Spring Algae Extract" and "Hot Spring Yeast Extract" which help reduce damage caused by UV rays and chemicals, maintain a healthy scalp environment, as well as condition and moisturise. ONSENSOU harnesses the natural benefits of hot springs, promoting scalp and skin health.

ORIGAMI DAY: NOVEMBER 11

Photo: Pinterest

Origami Day (Origami no Hi) or Paper Day is celebrated every year on November 11 to honour the traditional Japanese art of paper folding.

- 折 (ori) : Means "to fold" or "to break".
- 紙 (kami / gami) : Means "paper".

The date 11/11 was chosen because the four "1"s resemble the four equal sides of a square sheet of paper. It also coincides with peace commemorations like Armistice Day/Veterans Day, tying into the paper crane's symbol as a messenger of peace. As to the cultural symbolism, paper (kami) shares a homonym with the word for gods or spirits in Japanese, and folded cranes (senbazuru) symbolize peace, healing, and good fortune.
Although the most popular origami to make during this day is a paper crane, we offer you to make a more autumn-themed one – a maple leaf!

BUT LET'S NOT FORGET ABOUT LATVIA ❤

The 18th of November marks one of the most significant days for our country – Proclamation Day of the Republic of Latvia, Latvia's official national Independence Day.
Saules mūžu Latvijai!

Typical Celebrations in Riga

- Flower Laying: Solemn tribute and laying of flowers at the Freedom Monument with state officials.
- Military Parade: The Latvian National Armed Forces and NATO allied units hold a large-scale parade.
- Light festival: Transforms Riga into a spectacular open-air gallery. The festival illuminates buildings, parks and public spaces across the city.
